Frequently Asked Questions

What is the Treasury Bill (T-Bill) rate?

The T-Bill rate is set by market action and reflects the stability and direction of the overall market. We will update the top two tiers of the Amplified Money Market Checking account every Tuesday based on the preceding Friday's rate. If the preceding Friday, Monday, or Tuesday falls on an observed holiday, we will update the rate the following Wednesday.

Where can I find the current T-Bill and Amplified rate?

You can find the current T-Bill rate by visiting the Amplified page on our website: gcreditunion.org/amplified or our deposit rates page: gcreditunion.org/deposits.

What's the difference between a money market account and Amplified Money Market Checking?

A money market account is a savings account structured for larger deposit balances while providing a higher return. There are limits to the number of transactions or transfers made per month due to Regulation D.

Amplified provides the benefit of earning a higher return with the perks of a checking account, including: unlimited transfers and transactions, a debit card, checks, online/mobile transfers, and more.

Membership is required for use of General Electric Credit Union's (GECU) products and services. You must deposit $5,000 to open this account. If the account falls below $5,000 any day of the month, no dividends are accrued on that day of the month. At the end of each month, if your account balance is below $5,000, you will incur a $20 Amplified monthly maintenance fee. You will receive the accrued dividends if you close your account before dividends are posted. Rates earned are based on balance. We will update the rate for the top two tiers weekly on Tuesday to reflect the previous Friday's 1-Month Treasury Bill rate. If the preceding Friday, Monday, or Tuesday are an observed holiday, the rates will be updated the following Wednesday. The 1-Month Treasury Bill rate can be found from the U.S. Department of Treasury site under the "Daily Treasury Yield Curve Rate" drop down option. We use the daily balance method to calculate the dividend on your account. Dividends begin to accrue no later than the business day we receive the deposit to your account. Fees may reduce earnings.
